Jesco Introduces Modular Directional Lighting Catalog

Glendale, New York, 2007 — Jesco Lighting, Inc., a multifaceted lighting company known for its broadly growing selection of creative-design light fixtures for commercial, institutional and residential applications, has announced availability of the new Modular Directional Lighting Catalog.

The 68-page full-color catalog presents a thorough overview of the many new wide-ranging Modular specification-grade recessed ceiling fixtures for ambient, accent and spot-lighting effects. An overview of the collection, its various applications, and a table of contents, allows users to easily locate specific products and information on Modular Directional Lighting models, configurations, available components and accessories.

The catalog presents close-up product photos that highlight the crisp, contemporary designs of Modular Directional Lighting, showing the way individual units appear in typical applications. Models as a whole are characterized by lasting good design and construction, and wide-ranging energy-efficient lamping options.

Descriptive narratives at the head of each product section, complete specifications and information, are included for every family of product.
